AUDITORIUMS & OFFICES

When it comes to spaces for educational learning, the key word “conductive” is often heard. A conducive space to listen carefully and clearly to understand what is being taught is critical. Hence, an auditorium’s space needs to be safe, inspiring, and welcoming. Understandably, there would be lightweight fabric-backed wall panels to absorb sound while providing some decorative element. Even the stage curtains that need to be stowed should be looked into for fire-retardant and abrasive-resistant properties. Fabric Wall Panels are important to clad vertical surfaces because they absorb sound and reduce sonic vibrations while offering a modern, luxurious and contemporary aesthetic. All these elements come together to create some of the foundation that will create an engaging and safe space to be informed, educated, and engaged in whatever subject matter. The offices for teaching staff are important spaces that allow teachers to catch up and focus on work. Carpet Tiles help to do their job in ensuring castors of office chairs move around properly and smoothly. These products also offer rich textures and colours to brighten up your flooring and perfect for high-traffic environments. Widewall are important features to make such vertical surfaces appealing and functional. Office windows are also paramount in bringing in natural light, but you don’t want too much glare, hence Glass Film is the perfect solution. These components work cohesively to create an inviting space for people to convene, listen, and learn.

It is highly critical to create a conducive space so as to learn and interact.

LIBRARIES & CLASSROOMS

Libraries and classrooms are inevitably shared spaces used by many students and teachers. It should be a space that is safe and inspiring: allowing students to focus on school work and for teachers to carry out their duties. Light is critical when reading or studying in the library, but you don't want too much of the glare from sunlight streaming in. Classrooms' flooring takes the daily grind of feet pacing and walking over it. There's also the constant moving of chairs and tables. Therefore, it is critical to incorporate carpet tiles to deck up the flooring of classrooms. They can take the hardest hits and provide a safe surface for feet to move and chairs to shift. Curtains are equally important in cutting off bright light from outside so students don't have to squint at their textbooks. These are also fire retardant, anti-bacterial, washable and come in a large array of colours and designs. Glare that bounces off the whiteboard are also minimised through the installation of glass film. Put these thoughtful elements together and you'll have an engaging classroom space where ideas can be expressed, information to be absorbed, and concentration to be maintained at all times.

It should be a space that is safe and inspiring while allowing students to focus on school work and for teachers to carry out their duties.

COMMON AREAS, GYMS, INFIRMARIES & LOCKER

Gyms, infirmaries and locker rooms are some of the areas in a school that take the hardest beatings from the pillage of feet, spillages, sweat, pounding and splashes. At the gym, hard-wearing flooring should be deployed to tackle heavy foot-fall and the pounding of weights. Also, roller blinds help to cut glare. The curtains of an infirmary should be fire retardant, anti-bacterial and washable to maintain safety and cleanliness. The locker room is a high-traffic area so Carpet Tiles with rich textures and colours can help enliven the space. For safety purposes, these tiles' non-slip properties and high resilience are important considerations as these surfaces take the pounding of feet and other hard knocks, too. Don't forget all these spaces require proper lightweight wallcoverings that can inject colour and inspiration always.

Gyms, infirmaries and locker rooms may not be the most inviting areas to learn a subject or be educated about sciences. Safety is paramount when creating these three zones.

RESEARCH LABORATORIES, FOOD PREPARATION

Labs, food preparations and restrooms may not be the most inviting areas to learn and be taught. Safety is paramount when creating these three zones. For labs, flooring should take the rigors of busy footfall, occasional chemical spillages, and have anti-bacterial properties to maintain cleanliness. Also, roller blinds help to cut glare to maintain focus, and offer energy-saving effects. In the kitchen, safety is also top priority so flooring with slip-resistant properties and easy maintenance will avert accidents. For toilets, slip-resistant flooring with easy-to-clean properties are key considerations for a safe environment. Glass film in toilets help to protect the glass while cutting glare from the outside while permitting a decent level of privacy in toilets. In meeting rooms, walltalkers allow the presenter to project his/her Powerpoint document and even write on it.

Labs, food preparations and toilets may not be the most inviting areas to learn a subject or be educated about sciences. Safety is paramount when creating these three zones.
